CHURCH AFFAIRS.

-Elder J. J. Spencer's meeting at Antioch, Bourbon county, resulted in 24 additions.

-Sam Jones says that what some men call pastoral work is little more than taking care of a plug hat and looking after a ministerial reputation.

-A New Jersey preacher startled the ladies of his congregation by condemning the fashion of big sleeves. He took his text from Ezekiel 13:18.

-Wm. Hogue Wood's tongue became paralyzed while he was making a speech in Atlanta, ridiculing the Methodist church, of which he was a pastor for years.

-Four preachers went from here Tuesday to the Tates' Creek Association at Gilead: Revs. William Shelton, R. R. Noel, A. V. Sizemore and R. B. Mahony.

-On next Sunday at Georgetown the dedication of the $40 000 Christian church will be a big affair. 'Special trains will be run to it. A lunch will be served free to visitors in the parlors of the -- Rev. W. E. Ellis preached at the leading Christian church at Memphis Sunday, by invitation, and so greatly pleased his hearers that a unanimous cail to the pastorate was extended him. The salary is $1,800 a year and a nice parsonage free.

-Rev. R. B. Mabony preached for bis old congregation at Newport Sunday and found the church in a most flourishing Convention which will be held in Chicacondition under the pastorate of Rev. G. W. Perryman. He is doing a grand work there and is greatly beloved by his congregation.

-Rev. J. M. Bruce finally severed his connection with Glasgow and left for the upper part of the State last week. No man ever stood higher with the public than Mr. Bruce, and no man was ever more sincerely beloved and esteemed by those who knew him The departure of both himself and his excellent wife is a severe blow to a large circle of devoted friends. -Times.

-The Harrodsburg Sayings has this item, which can not refer to our friend, L. M. Lasley, can it? "Rev. Lastley, who has been conducting ta series of meetings at Bohon, closed his work there Monday. This singular preacher seems to be identified with no religious sect except his own. He professes sanctification and preaches this doctrine, Many strange incidents are said to have occurred during his preaching. When some applied for admission to the church membership he said the doors of the church were locked. He had 'a peculiar manner of shouting and would lie on his back and paw the air, as it were, with both feet.

W. P. WALTON.

Suppose Gen. Hardin is off on his construction of the State platform of an issue, the settlement of which he will have nothing to do unless in the remote probability of the death of a Senator, few of whom ever die in office, what will ft profit a democrat to help elect Col. Bradley by voting for him or refusing to vote for the head of our ticket? Gen. Hardin represents nearly everything dear to the democratic heart, he has been a democrat tried and true, whose services were never sought in vain when the party needed them; in office he was faithful and conscientious and as a man he is above reproach. Personally we have naught to say of the republican candidate, but politically he represents every thing that is repulsive to democracy and antagonistic to our idea of good government. There is neither reason nor sense in turning the State over to his gang and no true democrat will falter when such an alternative presents itself. Either Hardin or Bradley will be elected governor but the latter can only be by the aid of democrats. Is any good democrat willing to be responsible for such a result? If not let's all get together and send Col. Bradley and his party to the rear where it ought to go and stay.

LIKE the woman who swearing that she'd ne'er consent, consented, Editor James M. Richardson has accepted the democratic nominatian for representative from Barren county. He is an ultra free silver man and since Hardin's interpretation of the platform to suit that populistic idea, Mr. Richardson feels himself free to run for anything. They began by saying that the congregation deplored the condition of affairs and trusted God for guidance to a proper solution of it. An earnest request was made for Mr. Ellis to withdraw his resignation, in order that a satisfactory adjustment, honorable alike to all concerned, might be arrived at. His course as a man and preacher was highly commended and the highest approbation of his services expressed. Entire confidence was also expressed in the officers of the church, as well the belief that the errors committed were of the head and not of the heart. Dr. Ballou and Mr. Hughes were named as a committee to meet with the officers and pastor to try to bring about a happy solution of the trouble and the retention of Mr. Ellis if possible. On motion of Dr. Ballou the resolutions were adopted by a rising vote. A perusal of a number of passages of Scripture was urged and calling the attention of the members to the fact that too much talk and tale bearing produce strife and confusion. "The Better Land" for Mme. Antoinette Sterling while flying through the country at about forty miles an hour. MISS ELIZA WESLEY, a grandniece of John Wesley, founder of Methodism, died recently in London at the age of seventy-six. Her father, Samuel Wesley, was the composer of the oratorio of "Ruth."

An amateur violinist in Golden Ridge, Me., made a fiddle out of wood that had been at the bottom of a pond for many years. He saws music out of it for several hours every day, and now his neighbors wish both fiddle and performer were at the bottom of the pond.

It is said that the late Hans Von Bulow left directions that a post-mortem examination of his brain should be made to ascertain the cause of the excruciating headache from which he was a life-long sufferer. The autopsy revealed the fact that the end of the nerves had become embedded in a scar of an injury to the brain that he had received in childhood.
